DAVID FALLIS holds a Master of Music degree in musicology from the University of Toronto, and has also studied conducting with Helmuth Rilling, Margaret Hillis and George Hurst. He is music director of the Toronto Chamber Society, as well as being a member of The Toronto Consort and The Gents. David Fallis is frequently invited to perform as guest soloist in Southern Ontario, and has appeared with the Tafelmusik Baroque Orchestra, Te Deum Concerts, Orpheus Choir of Toronto, and Cellar Singers of Orillia.

After graduating from the University of Toronto with a Bachelor of Music degree in music history, RICHARD KOLB received a grant from the Canada Council which enabled him to study lute in Europe. Having performed widely in both North America and Europe, he recently served as music director for the "Graces of Love" production by Dance Baroque and toured Italy in recital. He has been heard frequently in radio broadcasts on CBC, CJRT, NPB and RAI, and has been invited to perform in several Baroque operas with the Canadian Opera Company. His solo recording, Italian Lute Music (Damzell 801), has been released to favourable reviews. Richard Kolb has taught at the Faculty of Music since 1980.

ALISON MELVILLE has performed as soloist on both recorder and baroque flute across Canada, the United States and Europe. She appears frequently with such ensembles as Tafelmusik, Musiconsort and the Bassano Consort. She has performed with The Toronto Symphony and Canadian Opera Company Orchestra, and is often heard on CBC and CJRT radio broadcasts. The recipient of two Canada Council Arts Awards and a Fellowship from the University of Toronto, Alison Melville holds a Master of Music degree, and also studied at the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis.
